Christian Science Monitor Reports Growth of Klipsch Firm to Position of World-Wide Fame

This is the second of a series of three articles published by the Christian Science Monitor, Boston's national newspaper, on which the copyright has been released to Hope Star for publication in Klipsch & Associates' home town.

Today's story (and tomorrow's also) is written by Don Davis, who set up the Klipsch exhibit at the Brussels World Fair, and who is now vice-president of the local electronic firm.

Klipsch & Associates are holding Open House this Sunday, from 2 to 6 p. m., at their new in-town offices, 116 N. Louisiana St.

HOPE, ARK. — A representative of an organization whose business it is to advance Arkansas industrially recently deplored the fact that a manufacturer operating within the state felt it necessary to remove the legend "Made in Arkansas" from the label of their products because several important Arkansas buyers shunned the merchandise so labeled.

Unperturbed by this aggravating fact is inventor Paul W. Klipsch of Klipsch & Associates, Inc., of Hope, Ark.

"Twice in the New Testament is the statement that a prophet is not without honor save in his own country," Mr. Klipsch says philosophically and continues to advertise his sound reproducing system, the Klipschorn, as a product of Hope, Ark.

Hope's four railroads, its airport, its nearness to scheduled flights at Texarkana and its accessibility to plywood and cabinet work together with what he praises as an able and talented citizenry, inclined Mr. Klipsch toward this location.

Recognition Grows
Neither he nor Hope has had occasion to regret his choice. Beginning with virtually a one-family operation in 1946, the company was producing full speaker systems by 1947 and by 1950 it was making money. It has expanded steadily, and while its production is still small and select, it has brought international recognition.

A fellow in the Audio Engineering Society, Paul Wilbur Klipsch, is also a member of Tau Beta Pi, an honorary engineering association; the Acoustic Society of America; Sigma Xi, an honorary research society; and the Institute of Electrical Engineers. He is listed in "Who's Who in Electronics," "Who Knows" and "What."

He has acquired about two dozen patents in the field of dynamic speakers, geophysics, and ordnance.

While at Stanford, a fellow student suggested to Mr. Klipsch that any speaker would perform better if placed in a corner. Several years later he took this basic idea and developed it. He discovered that the three surfaces of corner walls and floor have a mirror image effect, producing a sound effect.

Paralytic Polio Cases Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Paralytic polio cases this year are running more than 50 per cent higher than a year ago.

Last week 10 of the 15 polio cases reported by the states were paralytic, compared with 10 out of 19 in the corresponding 1958 week.

Since Jan. 1, this year there have been 135 paralytic cases out of 193 cases reported. This compares with 107 paralytic out of 133 listed in the same time last year.

However, a Public Health Service spokesman said today it will be four to six weeks after April 1 before the trend of the 1959 polio season will be indicated.

A nationwide polio vaccination program is being launched Sunday night.

Last year there were 3,140 paralytic cases compared with 2,487 in 1958, reversing a downward trend which followed introduction of Salk vaccine in 1954-55.

House members had stood firm in their rejection of the amendment.

The action handed off a threatened special session which undoubtedly would have had to be called to take care of the Highway Department's appropriation.

Tension increased over the big dispute when Sen. Sam Levine of Pine Bluff took the floor thirty minutes before the adjournment time to filibuster a bill that would authorize the election of three more members to the Little Rock School Board.

Levine, outwardly unconcerned at the growing uneasiness of the Senate, talked calmly and hesitantly waiting out the clock.

Finally, Sen. Max Howell of Little Rock author of the school bill, withdrew it in order to get Levine off the floor. That done the Senate hurriedly expunged an earlier approving vote to the highway appropriation bill, receded from the objectionable amendments and passed the measure 217-177.

The Senate then adjourned. The disputed amendments would have restricted highway department spending on maintenance to 12 million dollars annually, set a minimum wage of $1.20 an hour for road project laborers and required that money obtained from highway bonds be used only for the improvement of highways.

Defeat of the first amendment triggered a new development. Sen. Mark West of Paragould, who sponsored a successful bill to authorize a $2 million dollar highway bond issue, said he might ask Gov. Orval E. Faubus to veto it now.

The amendment would have done the same thing as a companion bill to the bond measure and the companion bill also was defeated. West said he told the governor he didn't want one bill with out the other.

The senator said Faubus had promised to veto the bill if West requested it but the governor wouldn't confirm or deny such a promise.

"Everybody's going to have to think about it (the bill) awhile," Faubus said.

Levine's filibuster was against a House amendment to Howell's school board election bill. The amendment, which made the bill more favorable to Faubus, was tacked on after the lower chamber had defeated the bill's emergency clause, which would have put it into effect June 12.

A runoff election, if a candidate in the special school board race didn't get a majority of votes cast also would have been required under the amendment.

Levine charged that the amendment was a deviation from the normal procedure of school elections, and said there "appeared to be some unknown motive behind it."

It was soon evident that he was out to talk the bill to death.

He joked with other senators, took up unrelated subjects and idly read over the measure.

The pressure to do something about the highway appropriation bill grew to great by two minutes when Howell pulled down the bill.

In other action, the Senate passed an amended bill to re-

Veto of Highway Bond Bill by Faubus Possible

By JACK MARTIN

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Legislature is scrambling down to the wire over a highway appropriation bill, settled its dispute with seconds to spare in a dramatic finish to the 2nd General Assembly yesterday.

After a hotly fought controversy with the House over a three-cent amendment to the $100 million dollar highway bill, the Senate backed down and withdrew the amendments, passed the bill and sent it to the governor—all in the last two minutes before final adjournment at noon.

House members had stood firm in their rejection of the amendment.

The action handed off a threatened special session which undoubtedly would have had to be called to take care of the Highway Department's appropriation.

Tension increased over the big dispute when Sen. Sam Levine of Pine Bluff took the floor thirty minutes before the adjournment time to filibuster a bill that would authorize the election of three more members to the Little Rock School Board.

More Money for Water Projects

WASHINGTON (AP) — More money will be available for Arkansas water projects if Congress goes along with recommendations of the Budget Bureau.

Army Engineers reported to Congress yesterday that the Budget Bureau is recommending a shift of $136,000 in funds previously asked for the year starting next July 1.

The shift would mean four million dollars for emergency bank stabilization on the Arkansas river in Arkansas and Oklahoma. Nothing was asked for this originally.

It also would mean an extra $300,000 in addition to the $400,000 already asked for Red River levees below Denison in Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana.

The President said the full amount is urgently needed to thwart "a fanatical conspiracy for international communism" which maintains 6 1/2 million men under arms in about 400 divisions around the world.

Singling out the Soviet drive to force the West out of Berlin, Eisenhower said: "In Europe today the Soviet Union has made demands regarding the future of Berlin which, if unmodified, could have perilous consequences."

"The resolution with which we and our allies will meet this issue has come about in large measure because our past programs of economic and military assistance to our NATO allies have aided them," he said.

Speaking of the worldwide Red threat against free nations, Eisenhower told the legislators: "Two fundamental purposes of our collective defense effort are to prevent general war, and to deter Communist local aggression."

"We know the enormous and growing Communist potential to launch a war of nuclear destruction and their willingness to use this power as a threat to the free world."

"We know also that even local aggressions, unless checked, can absorb the nation after nation into the Communist orbit—or could flame into world war."

"The protection of the free world against the threat or the reality of Soviet nuclear aggression of global attack, rests on the common defense effort established under our collective security agreements."

The bill would provide that no home mortgage shall be eligible for federal insurance unless the mortgagor agrees not to discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion or national origin in selecting purchasers or tenants.

Interior Commerce Committee Chairman Kenneth H. Tuggle told the subcommittee ICCT takes no position on another proposal to spell out by law prohibitions on racial discrimination in transportation.

The proposed law, he said, would write into statute what the commission has done through administrative action under existing law as to carriers subject to its jurisdiction.

Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming told the committee Thursday the administration does not intend to intervene in school integration disputes with tactics like federal operation of public schools or holding back of federal funds.

Nasser spoke to crowds who transformed the funeral of a dead Iraqi rebel into one of the biggest anti-Communist demonstrations ever staged in the Arab world.

It also was the biggest anti-Kassam rally since the conflict of the two powerful Arab leaders—Nasser and Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassam broke into the open following a reported revolt at Mosul in northern Iraq.

About 250,000 people participated in or witnessed the funeral demonstration, which wound up in front of the presidential residence to hear Nasser speak.

Nasser told the cheering crowds he offered four times to meet Kassam "to close the Arab ranks" but "Kassam always refused."

The crowd chanted "There is no God but God" and "Death to Kassam" as they accompanied the body of Col. Mohammed Said Shihab, Iraqi rebel, who escaped to Syria despite his wounds, and died in Damascus Wednesday.

Marchers carried hundreds of banners bearing such slogans as "Death to Kassam," "Death to the traitorous Communist party," and "There is no place in the Arab motherland for Communist agents."

Tens of thousands had swarmed into the 12 century old Omayed mosque or stood in the courtyard listening to Moslem and Christian leaders denounce Kassam.

The procession then thronged out three miles long from the mosque in the heart of old Damascus to the cemetery outside the town. Symbolic funeral processions also were staged in Aleppo, Hama and other cities of Syria.

It was the third consecutive day that Nasser has denounced Communists who once found refuge in Damascus.

Congress Asked for $3.9 Million in Foreign Aid

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower asked Congress today for $3,930,000 in foreign aid. Its said the spending is essential to survival in the face of a growing Communist potential to launch a war of nuclear destruction.

In a special message Eisenhower cautioned against "reckless cuts" lest the United States become "the richest nation in the graveyard of history."

The President said the full amount is urgently needed to thwart "a fanatical conspiracy for international communism" which maintains 6 1/2 million men under arms in about 400 divisions around the world.

Storm Marches Northeast Toll Is Heavy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A severe mid-March snowstorm which hammered the Northeast, crippling normal activities and leaving a heavy death toll, tapered off today.

The late winter storm, worst of the season, dumped more than a foot of snow in sections of New England and New York state. Light snow fell during the early morning in the extreme Northeast as the intense storm moved out into the Atlantic.

At least 24 deaths were attributed to the storm, which earlier had lashed areas in the Midwest. Most of the deaths were attributed to heart attacks suffered while shoveling snow.

The storm was indirectly blamed for the deaths this morning of seven persons including five children in a fire in snow-bound Easton, Maine. A father, five of his six children and one man perished in the blaze that destroyed their home in Easton, about 10 miles from the Canadian border. Firemen, hampered by huge snow drifts, arrived too late at the burning home of John Hersey to save the victims.

Huge cleanup jobs confronted the storm-battered sections. Strong winds which whipped the heavy snow covering into huge drifts slowed snow removal.

Falls ranged up to 22 inches in New Hampshire and Maine. The covering at Caribou, Maine, measured 24 inches, and was 20 inches at Rumford, Maine.

New York state which was hit by a covering up to 18 inches in some places, was lashed by strong winds during the night, especially in eastern areas. Travel in many sections was halted. Six deaths in New York were blamed on the storm.

Similar conditions were reported in many parts of New England, but most roads were open and plane flights were scheduled to resume.

The white covering averaged up to 10 to 12 inches in sections of Pennsylvania and New Jersey and up to 14 inches in western Maryland.

The storm deaths included two lobster fishermen lost in a small boat off Islesford, Maine. Other deaths were reported in Connecticut, Rhode Island, Vermont, Massachusetts, New Jersey and Ohio.

Bangs Disease Vaccinations Start Soon

Beginning the last week of March 23 the vaccinator is to be in

Hopewell County for a 2 or 3 week period to vaccinate the 4 to 8 months of age heifer calves for Bang's Disease announced County Agent Oliver Adams today.

Owners of such holders desiring the service are requested to advise the county agent at once so that all requests may be scheduled by communities to conserve time and travel. There is no charge.

According to County Agent Adams the most effective means known for the control of Bang's Disease or contagious abortion in cattle is proper vaccination of the heifer calves. The vaccination is more than 95 per cent effective. The vaccination is administered by a representative of the Livestock Disease Bradication of USDA and the Arkansas Livestock and Sanitary Board. The scheduling of requests is made for the vaccinator by the county agent.

Rustling Lucrative Now in Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Fast transportation and fairly good cattle prices are making rustling a lucrative business in Oklahoma.

George Reid, executive secretary of the Oklahoma Cattlemen's Assn., said that from July through December, 1958, 307 cattle and calves were reported stolen or mislaid.

Association figures don't extend back into early days of cattle rustling but the head of the Oklahoma Bureau of Investigation said he felt it was on the upgrade. Bureau Chief Forrest Castle said his agency had commissioned eight rangers to investigate cattle thefts.

Condition of Marshall Same

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. George C. Marshall, suffering from effects of two strokes, was reported in an unchanged condition at Walter Reed Army Hospital today.

A medical report added that he "had another good night."

Marshall has been in a serious condition for several weeks.

Hospital Choir to Sing at Baptist Church

The 47-voice choir is composed of student nurses representing all of the classes in the hospital school of nursing—pre-clinical, freshmen, juniors and seniors.

Three of the student nurses who will sing in the group are from Hope. All were graduated from Hope High in the 1957 class. Miss Pat Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coy Henderson, now living in Jena, La., Miss Sarah Key, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Key, Miss Anita Louise Burson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Burson. The time of the service is 7:45 p. m. and the public is invited to attend.

The attendance contest between the Hope Church and the Central Baptist Church in Magnolia is moving into its final phase. The scores now stand with Magnolia leading by one point—Magnolia 600, Hope 599. The contest will close on Sunday, March 22.

For several weeks now the local police radio has been picking up a strange voice and the boys figured it was a Cuban station as the announcer speaks only in Spanish. . . . seems it started just about the time of the Castro revolution. . . . anyway the fellows can't understand the announcer, although several will readily tell you that "Pedro," their nickname for him, is trying to get Officer Shirley . . . so far as anyone knows, John hasn't answered.

Levine also tried to beat this bill, calling it "absurd and unbusinesslike," and prompted by "a great deal of superstition and fallacy."

Sen. Jerry Seaton of Hazen spoke for the bill, saying it would prevent a white person's accepting Negro blood if he so desired, but merely requires that the blood be labeled and the patient told of the donor's race.

Seaton declared any need "for white people to pollute their blood with nigger blood."

The amendment allows any medical attendant to declare an emergency and disregard the law. Originally the bill required a doctor to certify in writing that an emergency existed.

The Senate also killed a Paulus-backed bill to require prevailing local wages to be paid on public construction projects. The vote was 17-6 and 18 votes were needed.

Amendments had weakened the bill considerably, anyway, by excluding from it street, highway and bridge construction and public school projects.

Also beaten was a bill to make the state Highway Commission plan for maintenance and construction needs four years ahead.

Michigan Lowmakers Reject Bond Issue

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—The Republican controlled state Senate today rejected a 100-million dollar bond proposal which its supporters said would have averted the prospect of payless days for 32,000 state employees about May 1.

Sen. Carlton L. Morris, a Republican spokesman, told news men Republicans were unwilling to "start down the endless road of deficit financing."

Democrat Sen. Philip Rahoi replied that "Republicans want pay less pay days and to put the governor (Democrat G. Mennen Williams) on the spot." He said the GOP wanted "to crucify the governor and nothing else."

The Senate adjourned until Monday night after firing 100 million bond idea. Spokesmen for both parties agreed it was unlikely any compromise could be worked out in time to get it before the voters on the April 6 state election ballot.

Republicans and Democrats have argued for weeks over ways of solving the state's financial deficit, which is approaching 110 million dollars.

Most commercially available stereophonic program material for the home, such as tapes, discs, and radio broadcasts, have only two tracks with two track, two channel reproduction. It has proven very difficult to detect differences in force and depth as well as angular displacement.

Mr. Klipsch went a step further with a piece of wire and a small speaker he added a third channel. It was not the setting up of an artificial channel but was actually the re-establishing of one which was there all the time.

Development of the 2 PH-3 circuit as it is called, resulted in the manufacture of still another loudspeaker system, the Klipsch Model H, to be used as the focusing third channel between the two-corner speaker systems. Because the stereophonic effect is not noticeable below 100 cycles, the third speaker need not have bass response below that frequency.

From 1940 until 1956 the Klipschorn was much in advance of then available monophonic records. But now, with stereo tapes and disc buyers can command a performance from Beckwith and Mozart such as even the best of the best were never privileged to hear.

Gas Blaze at Brinkley Is Under Probe

BRINKLEY, Ark. (AP)—Investigators today sought to determine the cause of a fire that roared through two fuel storage plants here yesterday and threatened the downtown business district.

The fire, punctuated by shattering explosions of gasoline and butane gas tanks, destroyed one building. Another smaller structure was crushed by massive chunks of debris from an exploded fuel storage tank.

A fireball that climbed into the sky was visible for miles.

Fire units from a dozen cities kept the raging flames from spreading into the downtown area.

No monetary estimate of the damage was made.

One person was injured critically and at least five less seriously.

Thomas Ulley 44, of Brinkley, was reported in critical condition at a Memphis hospital as a result of severe burns he suffered at the outbreak of the fire.

Ulley was about to drive his small butane distributing truck away after filling it from a rail load tank car at the Weis Butane Gas Co. when flames burst out.

Explosions followed, spewing fingers of flames in all directions, and the blaze spread rapidly to the adjoining Gulf Oil Co. gasoline storage plant.

The flames leaped to a one-story brick building which housed the S&L Sales Co., a beer distributing firm, and the Ousley Auto Parts Co. The 50-by-100-foot structure was destroyed.

Later, a storage tank at Weis exploded and toppled onto a small brick building which housed a fish market, crushing it.

A huge transport truck and a railroad tank car were overturned by the explosions. It was reported that at least eight trucks in the Weis yard were destroyed by the flames.

Firemen kept the blaze from spreading to the five storage tanks at the Cities Service plant in the same block with the other two firms. All are one block from Brinkley's main street.

The flames engulfed two propane tanks and two butane tanks at the Weis plant and five gasoline tanks at the Gulf plant.

Firemen said a vacant lot which separates the area in which the fire struck and the main downtown section probably saved the business buildings.

Kentucky Opens Defense of NCAA Crown

Associated Press Sports Writer

Kentucky's Wildcats seeking an unprecedented fifth championship, open defense of their NCAA basketball title tonight as 16 of the nation's best major college teams begin play in four regional tournaments.

Although Kentucky got into this year's tournament because champion Mississippi State declined to represent the Southeastern Conference, there are those who say Adolph Rupp's crew is capable of going all the way. Mississippi refused to enter because its all-white team would have to play against Negroes.

Kentucky is not a great team by comparison with some of Rupp's outfits. But it lost only two of its 25 games and was ranked second in the nation in the final Associated Press poll. The team is led by All-American Johnny Cox, only starter from last year's champions.

Kentucky plays Louisville, an at-large selection with a 17-10 record, in the first game of tonight's doubleheader at Evansville, Ind., where the Big Ten, meets Marquette (23-1) in the second.

Kentucky and Michigan State are favored to tangle Saturday night in the Mid-east regional. "Steel" how the other three regional tournaments stack up:

East at Charlotte N. C. — West Virginia (26-4) vs. St. Joseph's of Philadelphia (22-3) and Navy (17-9) vs. Boston University (18-8).

West Virginia, having overcome its jinx of losing in the preliminary round, four straight years and Navy, which eliminated well-regarded North Carolina, are favored.

Midwest at Lawrence, Kan. — Texas Christian (19-5) vs. Cincinnati (23-3) and De Paul (13-9) vs. Kansas State (24-1).

Far West at San Francisco — Gonzaga (20-6) and St. Mary's (18-5) vs. St. Mary's (18-5) and California (21-4) vs. Utah (21-3).

The National Invitation Tournament, opened in New York's Madison Square Garden Thursday night. Butler continued its rapid end-of-the-season pace by downing Fordham 94-80. St. John's of New York eliminated Villanova 75-67.

There will be no action in the NIT tonight. The first round will be completed Saturday afternoon with the Providence, Manhattan and Denver-New York University doubleheader. Topseeded Bradley takes on Butler and St. John's meets St. Bonaventure Saturday night. St. Louis and Oklahoma City see action next Tuesday.

At Evansville, Ind., Southwest Missouri State and Evansville won the right to meet in the finals of the tournament tonight. Southwest Missouri State defeated Los Angeles State 72-50, and Evansville downed North Carolina A&T 110-92 in Thursday night's semifinals.

Tennessee A&I State continued to dominate the NAIA tournament at Kansas City. Bidding for a record third straight championship Tennessee A&I whipped Illinois Normal 131 to 74 in the quarter finals Thursday night. In the other games, Southwest Texas State defeated Lenoir Rhyne 80-78 Fort Hays Kan. State upset West Virginia Wesleyan 98-83, and Pacific Lutheran downed Georgia Tech 97-83.

PORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Port Smith meets Jonesboro and Van Buren takes on Blytheville in semifinals of the Class AAAA state basketball tournament here tonight.

Port Smith behind 21-18 at half-time of its quarterfinal game against North Little Rock last night, put on a third-quarter surge to whip the Wildcats 52-38. Tommy Boyer scored 19 points to spark the Grizzlies and Jerry Rogers led North Little Rock with 19 points.

Jonesboro led all the way in its 58-43 triumph over Fayetteville. Slow in starting, the Grizzlies began riding the rage on the shooting of Ernest Stallings and Johnny Bunch, and moved to a 31-20 margin at half-time. Jonesboro held the lead and built on it.

Steve Cotton gained some consolation for the losers by capturing scoring honors with 23 points. Stallings paced Jonesboro with 18. Van Buren minus its biggest man, 6-3 Dick James, had no trouble in defeating Leachville 61-42. James was out with a sprained ankle.

The pointers subdued Leachville on all fronts but couldn't stop Tommy Kennel, of the Lions, from snaring high-point honors with 22, as against 17 for Danny Greenfield, pace-setter for Van Buren. Charles Cobb dumped in 20 points to lead Blytheville in a 63-54 victory over Forrest City.

The Mustangs fought gamely but couldn't stand up against the rebounding of Blytheville's Red Cobb and Bill Harrison, coupled with the shooting accuracy of Freddie White, Joe Wicker and Jesse Taylor.

Dorrie Kessner and Tommy Higgs each scored 10 points for Forrest City.

Fort Smith and Jonesboro will lead off tonight's schedule.

The final contest will be held tomorrow night.

NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Pettit is the National Basketball Assn. scoring champion this season, and an author of sorts, to boot. He almost singlehandedly rewrote the NBA record book, final statistics revealed today.

The St. Louis Hawks star set six major records, breaking only one of his own. In addition, Bill Sharman, Bob Cousy and Bill Russell of Boston, and Kenny Sears of New York, also set new records.

Pettit scored the most points (2,150); had the highest per game average (29.2); most field goals scored (828); most free throws scored (250); and most free throws attempted (388).

Repeating the feat of last season, Pettit scored the most points in a game (54) against the Detroit Pistons.

Veteran of Civil War Critically Ill

KINGSPORT, Tenn. (AP)—John Salling, one of two surviving veterans of the Civil War, was waging the battle of his long life early today. Pneumonia closed in on the 92-year-old Confederate soldier.

Salling was brought to Muncie Clinic a private hospital here from his hitherto home, Thursday. Dr. John Muncie confirmed the diagnosis, and said Salling was in very poor condition.

The only other survivor of the Civil War is Walter Williams of Houston, Tex., who was 116 on Nov. 14. He has been bed fast and in declining health for many months.

Two members of Salling's family — one a great-granddaughter 100 years younger than he — are in the same hospital. They are Mrs. Hobart Hawkins, wife of a grandchild, who is recovering from recent surgery, and her daughter Linda 12 who is in good condition, also with pneumonia.

"How To Be A Good Leader," Mrs. Lillie M. Doss, Nevada County home agent discussed "Facts About Home Demonstration Work."

Mrs. Doss also assisted in training leaders to do a better job in carrying out club work in their communities.

Following the lunch period, Mrs. J. B. Rhone, Miller County HD Agent discussed "Qualities of Good Leadership." These qualities were Straight-thinking, awareness, joy of service, confidence and guidance.

FIRST ENTRY

Miss Barbara Sinclair, "Miss Arkansas Tech", is the first contestant entered in the 1959 "Miss Arkansas Pageant", which is scheduled for July 15-18 in Hot Springs. Miss Sinclair is an 18-year-old sophomore at the Russellville institution; her home is at Danville.

CAN'T GET DOWN—Harold Lovely of Detroit looks down a ladder to find his eight-month-old pooch, Wayne, following close behind. Wayne, who might be a Labrador retriever (no body knows), has a penchant for climbing but unlike cats, he can't get down. The 60-pounder hauls himself up to the most unlikely heights and owner Lovely has to climb up and bring him down. "Can't hardly keep Wayne off roofs," Lovely comments.

YOU'RE SAFE—Actor William Frawley shouts baseball advice while rehearsing for a television show. After some lean years in the acting profession, the 57-year-old thespian is staging a comeback.

THEY CAN'T GO HOME—Villagers in Herbriggen, Switzerland, load their belongings on sleds as they prepare to abandon their homes under the threat of avalanche. A rumbling landslide of rock and ice is inching its way toward the Alpine village, evacuated by 215 inhabitants. Rocks, earth and snow were collecting on a plateau 4,000 feet above the town. When and if the ice melts, and the slide starts tumbling, Herbriggen will probably be buried.

THE STORY: Howard Ackerman, an executive of the Buck eye plant, was seriously hurt while taking a walk through the factory. Bennett is investigating suspected sabotage which has already caused one death, and the detective believes that Ackerman was the victim of an attempt on Jim's life.

XVII
I cradled the phone, yawned some more, and leaned back on the pillow. I felt dull. After a while I got up, washed my face with cold water, put on my hat and coat and went down to the lobby. The clerk told me that the hospital, the only one in town, was located at the southern end of Main Street. I drove there. A polite young lady told me that Mr. Ackerman was in room 101, but that he was not permitted visitors. I asked if his condition was serious and she nodded. "Are you a relative?" she asked.

"Just a friend. Perhaps I can see him tomorrow?"
"Perhaps," she smiled.
I thanked her and left.
When I was outside I surveyed the lay-out of the building and decided that room 101 would be in a wing paralleling the street. I walked along a sidewalk until I came to a door labeled Staff Only. I opened the door and stepped into a small alcove off a corridor. Directly opposite me was a room numbered 99. I had guessed right. I entered the corridor. Room number 101 was one door down. As I stood there the door opened and a woman came out.

She was not a young woman. There were fine lines around her mouth and her cheekbones were prominent in the thin face. Her eyes were beautiful, large, and black and clear. They gazed at me with uncomfortable directness. She was smartly dressed in a dark blue sheath dress, tight over her slim figure. She wore a small blue hat with a tiny veil. Her shoes were blue and trim, high-heeled. Graying black hair was drawn severely back and knotted in a light bun at the back of her head. Her legs and ankles were good. If she had been younger, she might have passed for a model in a slick fashion magazine. I knew who she was.

I removed my hat and said politely, "Mrs. Ackerman."
She nodded, watching me intently. A faint blue vein in her left temple began to move, almost imperceptibly.
"My name is Bennett. I came to see Mr. Ackerman, but was told he's not allowed visitors. How is he?"
"Bennett?" she pulled smoothly plucked brows together in a frown. "Do I know you?"
"No, ma'am, we haven't met. I was with Mr. Ackerman when he was hurt."
She held the frown. "Are you with the company?"
"Yes, Sales, Cleveland territory. I repeated my question. "How is he?"
"Bad. He may die."
"I'm sorry to hear that. Could I see him?"
She turned swiftly and opened the door. "There," she said in a low, hard voice. "There he is. Look at him!"
I looked. A figure lay on a bed beneath a sheet. Except for the eyes and mouth, the entire head was covered with bandages. I assumed it was Howard Ackerman. Mrs. Ackerman closed the door.
